

Ike Challenges Russia To Prove Peace Intentions

Calls On Soviets To Accept Global Disarmament Plan

Washington (AP) — President Eisenhower yesterday challenged Soviet Russia's new regime to prove its peace overtures are sincere by agreeing to global disarmament and by taking concrete steps to ease the tensions that threaten World War III.

"The first great step along this way must be the conclusion of an honorable armistice in Korea," the President said in a speech widely heralded as America's answer to the Soviet peace offensive.

Once the path of peace has been clearly charted, once the fears of East-West strife have abated, Eisenhower proposed setting up a multi-billion dollar fund from the savings of disarmament to wage a "new kind of war"—an all-out global war against "the brute forces of poverty and need."

For this purpose, Eisenhower suggested that a "substantial percentage" of the savings achieved by calling off the arms race should go into a fund for "world aid and reconstruction."

Some 400 of the nation's leading editors volleyed applause as Eisenhower addressed the American Society of Newspaper Editors in his first full-dress speech on foreign policy since he entered the White House on Jan. 20.

The President proposed that a Korean armistice should be followed by political discussions leading to "free elections in a united Korea." He also called for an end to Red aggression in Indochina and Malaya; an Austrian peace treaty; unification of Germany; independence for East European satellites of Russia.

On Capitol Hill, lawmakers of both parties gave the President high praise and support for his challenge to the Kremlin's new masters to do more than merely talk peace.

"I believe the President is speaking for the true mind and heart of the American people," commented Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas.

Even as Eisenhower set forth this country's position, the Soviet bloc in the United Nations in New York withdrew its controversial Korean proposals and joined with the rest of the U. N. in an appeal for further truce talks at Panmunjom.

Urging Russia to turn from what he described as the Stalin-dictated course that has left humanity "hanging from a cross of iron," Eisenhower put it squarely upon the Kremlin to show its hand without trickery or deceit.

"I know of only one question upon which progress waits," he said. "It is this: what is the Soviet Union ready to do?"

"Whatever the answer, let it be plainly spoken."

"Again we say, the hunger for peace is too great, the hour in history is too late, for any government to mock men's hopes with mere words and promises and gestures."

"The test of the truth is simple. There can be no persuasion but by deeds."

Thus forewarning that any new Soviet propaganda moves are doomed to fail, Eisenhower said the alternatives to true peace endeavors are these:

"The worst is atomic war. The best would be . . . a life of perpetual fear and tension."

And he cautioned that the vast burden of the arms race, if continued, would result in "draining the wealth and labor of all peoples," not alone in the American system but in the Soviet orbit as well.

Eisenhower's address was noticeably free from the barbed warnings to the Soviets that have marked some past presidential speeches in recent years, but he made it emphatically clear that if Russia turns to aggression, the free world will hit back with tremendous strength.

Citing Russia's postwar policy of "power superiority" backed by huge armies, the President said it has forced the free nations to develop "weapons of war now capable of inflicting instant and terrible punishment upon any aggressor."

Specifically, the President outlined five steps for Russia to take to convince the Western allies of her sincerity:

One—Conclusion of an "honorable armistice" in Korea, followed by political discussions leading to "free elections in a united Korea."

Two—An end to Communist aggression in Asia, notably in Indochina and Malaya—"for any armistice in Korea that merely released aggressive armies to attack elsewhere would be a fraud."

Three—Completion of a peace treaty for Austria.

Four—Unification of Germany into a "free and united" nation.

Five—Full independence of Russia's Iron Curtain satellites to end "the present unnatural division of Europe."

Lansdale Boy, Aged 5, Drowns

Lansdale, (AP)—A physician performed an emergency operation and massaged a 5-year-old boy's heart yesterday in a vain attempt to revive the child after he had fallen into Penn Brook near here and drowned.

The victim, Anthony Walton, of Lansdale, was rushed to North Penn Hospital where the operation was performed by Dr. Frank F. Boston.

U. N. Ready For New Truce Talks

20 Persons Perish In Two Fires

Chicago (AP) — An explosion-sparked fire which flashed through a factory and a nursery fire started by a child yesterday killed at least 20 persons. The factory fire turned some workers into human torches.

Police Capt. Robert Ryan said the factory toll might "reach at least 30." Fifteen hours after the blaze, 16 persons still were listed as missing.

A spokesman for the factory said some of the missing may have gone to their homes or elsewhere.

The twin-blazes — separated by two miles but occurring within minutes of one another — injured at least 41 persons, 37 at the factory and four at the nursery in an apartment building.

Scorching flames turned the Haber Co. factory, about two miles northwest of The Loop into an inferno, spreading panic among workers in upper floors of the four-story building. Some leaped from windows. Others fled from lower exits, their clothes ablaze.

Sixteen bodies were taken from the old factory to the morgue. Capt. Ryan said two more bodies had been spotted in the water-filled basement but had not been recovered.

Ryan said rescuers faced a long night of work in continued search for victims.

The fire which flashed through the apartment house nursery home shortly afterward killed two babies and injured two other children and two women.

By a tragic coincidence, a fire house station is just across the street from the apartment. But the fire trucks stationed there had gone to the factory fire.

Police said a 4-year-old boy in the apartment told them he was playing with matches and some laundry bags caught fire.

Management of the Haber Company estimated their loss at "more than $500,000." Fire officials earlier had said damage was at least $175,000.

Edward Ryan, Haber Co. industrial relations director, said he could not account for the missing employees but had asked the Red Cross to make a house-to-house check of their homes.

"We don't know where the missing workers are," he said. "They may be in the building. They may have gone home or just disappeared."

Wrecking crews opened the factory elevator shaft where it was first believed some workers might be trapped, but the shaft was empty.

Draining of water and clearing of debris from the basement continued in a search for possible victims.

Stevenson Forced Down In Jungle

Singapore (AP) — Engine trouble gave an unexpected twist yesterday to a helicopter flight by Adlai Stevenson and a group of others over Malaya's guerrilla-infested jungle.

They were forced down in a muddy clearing eight miles from Kuala Lumpur, capital of the federation of Malaya. But it was a gentle landing; no one was injured and no guerrillas were sighted.

"I was not worried particularly because I had a fine pilot and there was a paddy directly below us," Stevenson said.

Eisenhower sandwiched his visit to the ball park between his foreign policy address before the American Society of Newspaper Editors and an appearance later at a civic celebration in Salisbury, N. C.

His timetable allowed him to watch only an inning and a half of play before leaving for the National Airport and the flight to Salisbury. When he left the score was 4 to 0 in favor of the New York Yankees. They went on to win, 6 to 3.

Leo Greenstein, Milton Hoffman and Monroe Tobias, New York accountants.

Max Halperin, Isadore Davis and Samuel Shopick, New York attorneys.

Greenwald himself wasn't questioned about the $60,000 incident, but he had a field day testifying on other subjects. The fabulous "Dutchman" related that he once got $4,000 just for introducing two men. Another time, he said, he got $75,000 for lining up fighting planes for the Chinese Nationalists when they couldn't get them from the U. S. government.

PFC. ROBERT LYNCH, 21, of Carbondale, Pa., is helped from the helicopter that rescued him from the wreckage of a chartered DC-3 plane, and brought him to Selkirk, Wash., for medical aid. Six died as the plane, bound for Seattle, crashed on a snow covered mountain side. An engine sputtered out and the ice-weighted wings pulled the craft down.

House GOP Sees Pressure From Governor As Only Way To End Tax Deadlock

Harrisburg, (AP)—Gov. John S. Fine held the key yesterday to end the three-week House deadlock on the two per cent sales tax.

A House Republican leader, who declined quotation by name, said Fine must enter actively into the sales tax picture or face a long impasse on the problem of raising $1,400,000,000 to balance his proposed $1,400,000,000 budget for the Commonwealth for 1953-55.

Otherwise, he added, the House leadership is ready to throw in the sponge on the sales tax.

"We have gone as far as we can," he told a newsman. "Personally won't pass the sales tax. What is needed now is pressure from the governor."

The governor has remained strangely quiet during the House struggle on the sales tax. In December, however, he said neither a sales nor an income levy could pass the lower branch this year.

Fine has taken the attitude that it is up to the House members themselves to devise a tax program to balance the budget.

The leader's reference to "pressure" by Fine underlined the governor's powers in holding the state's patronage strings.

Fine is expected to go directly to Republican county chairmen to seek their help in bringing rebellious House members into line.

Rep. Albert W. Johnson, Republican floor leader, said the GOP lacked seven votes on their side of the aisle to pass the sales tax. The majority needed to pass a tax bill is 105.

Johnson said the 109-member House Republican bloc is divided between backers of a one per cent sales tax and those who want the key at a two per cent rate.

"If we can get them together, we'll have enough votes," he added.

Blast Damages Bogart Home

West Los Angeles (AP) — If it isn't the dogs making a noise at the Humphrey Bogarts, it's something else.

Wednesday night it was an explosion.

The Bogarts were targets of complaints from neighbors recently that their boxers howled and ran loose and created a disturbance.

They were entertaining Wednesday night, and Mrs. Bogart, Lauren (Baby) Bacall, told firemen someone dropped a lighted cigarette down a kitchen chute which connects with a basement incinerator.

But the pilot light had gone out. Firemen estimated damage from the blast at $500.

Malan's Election Signals Trouble

Pretoria, South Africa, (AP)—Prime Minister Daniel F. Malan swept back to power with an increased parliamentary majority in returns yesterday from Wednesday's general election. The results signalled a dangerous era ahead in racial relations for the member of the British Commonwealth.

With 14 seats in the lower house Parliament still unsettled, the dem. ex-preacher's Nationalists had captured 89.

Russia Joins U.S. In Backing Peace Proposal

United Nations, N. Y. (AP)—The Communist bloc suddenly ditched its catch-all peace plan yesterday and joined the United States in a historic unanimous vote appealing for an early Korean armistice.

The vote was taken on a Brazilian resolution in the 60-nation Political Committee. Every member held up his hand. It was the first time the United States and the Soviet Union had voted together on a Korean issue.

The committee thus ended in smiling unanimity one of the bitterest debates yet held in the U. N. It avoided handing down any stipulations for an armistice, leaving the military negotiators at Panmunjom a free hand.

The General Assembly, made up of the same delegates who sit in the political committee, is expected to give speedy approval to the Brazilian resolution, which:

One—Expresses confidence that a just and honorable armistice in Korea will contribute to alleviating international tension.

Two—Notes with deep satisfaction that an agreement has been signed in Korea on the exchange of sick and wounded prisoners of war.

Three—Expresses hope that the exchange of the sick and wounded prisoners will be speedily completed and that "the further negotiations at Panmunjom will result in achieving an early armistice in Korea, consistent with the United Nations principles and objectives."

Informed diplomats credited the break in the long and explosive debate to two delegates—V. K. Krishna Menon, India, and Joao Carlos Muniz, Brazil, Political Committee chairman.

Menon set the stage by stating he would support the Brazilian resolution and appealing to Polish Foreign Minister Stanislaw Skrzyszewski to withdraw an omnibus plan introduced by Poland. Menon said changes in the world since the Assembly convened last fall promised to lessen international tension.

Menon had been in conferences with the Polish delegate and with Soviet Delegate Andrei Y. Vishinsky for several days.

Skrzyszewski followed Menon, announcing he would not press for a vote on his resolution.

Bomber Flies At 794 MPH

Washington, (AP)—The world's fastest known bomber, the B47 Stratojet, has flown 794 miles an hour—130 miles an hour faster than the speed of sound. But it had the aid of high winds.

The Defense Department permitted Boeing Airplane Co., manufacturer of the B47, yesterday to make the first disclosure of a supersonic flight by a bomber.

An experimental fighter type rocket plane, the Navy's Skyrocket, has flown 1,238 miles an hour. Air Force jet fighters in Korea often have exceeded the speed of sound in steep dives.

But the six-engine, swept-wing B47 attained its supersonic speed in level flight, and kept at 794 miles an hour for 30 minutes.

It did so while flying eastward from Albuquerque, N. M.

Peron Emerges On Top

Buenos Aires, Argentina, (AP)—President Juan D. Peron emerged with a stronger grip on Argentina yesterday after a night-long reign of terror in which groups of his supporters looted and burned buildings symbolizing the opposition. Six persons were killed.

He sought unanimous agreement to limit debate, beginning Monday. When Sen. Hill (D-Ala.), leader of the opposition bloc, objected, Taft notified members the Senate will meet in unusual Saturday session and work day and night next week.

Reds Told That Key POW Issue Must Be Settled

Munsan, Korea, Friday (AP)—The U. N. Command today said it was ready to resume the Korean armistice talks if the Reds will get promptly down to business on the last key issue—handling of Red prisoners who don't want to go home.

A letter turned over to the Communists at Panmunjom today.

One—Suggested Switzerland as the neutral nation to take custody of such prisoners—in Korea.

Two—Went further than the latest Red offer by proposing a 60-day time limit after which the neutral state would arrange the "peaceful disposition" of those who still refused to go home.

Three—Offered to send lower level liaison officers to Panmunjom as early as tomorrow "to discuss matters incidental to reopening plenary sessions of the armistice delegations . . ."

An Allied staff officer asked for a meeting of the liaison groups at 11 a.m. Saturday (9 p.m. EST, Friday) at Panmunjom.

While today's move was made toward a possible truce in the nearly three-year-old war, the first of the Allied sick and wounded to be exchanged were waiting at Kaesong, just six dusty miles from freedom.

The letter handed over at Panmunjom today was from Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison Jr., senior Allied armistice negotiator, to Lt. Gen. Nam Il, senior Red delegate.

Nam earlier had asked the Allies to resume the full-scale armistice talks.

Nearly 50,000 of the 132,000 prisoners held by U. N. forces have said they would resist repatriation. When the Allies broke off the truce talks last Oct. 8, the Reds were demanding return of all prisoners.

Since then, Red China Premier Chou En-lai has proposed that all prisoners refusing immediate repatriation be turned over to a neutral state where the Reds could "explain" matters. But Chou didn't say what would happen after that. The Reds made it clear, however, they expected all their captured soldiers eventually would want to go home.

Harrison's letter carried a stern warning that the U. N. Command would not go along with any stalling Communist tactics as in the past.

He said "it is assumed" the Reds are prepared to accept the U. N. Command proposal on disposing of the prisoner problem "or make comparable constructive proposal of your own which would constitute a valid basis for resumption of meetings." That showed Allied dissatisfaction with what the Communists had called their detailed proposal for renewing talks.

This was the first time Switzerland has been proposed officially in the Panmunjom discussion to act as the neutral intermediary.

Under the proposed Allied plan, Switzerland or some other neutral agreeable to both sides would be allowed 60 days to determine the attitude of those prisoners refusing to go back to Communism. The neutral then would "make arrangements for the peaceful disposition of those remaining in custody."

Swiss representatives would visit prison camps in South Korea under the proposal and interview the 49,000 or so prisoners reluctant to return to Red territory.

The Fifth Air Force reported the first Red trucks bearing Allied sick and wounded drove into the Communist armistice base camp at Kaesong late yesterday six miles west of Panmunjom where the prisoner exchange will begin Monday.

Other Communist truck convoys—probably carrying more of the 50 Koreans and 50 Americans and other non-Koreans included in Monday's first exchange—bumped down bomb-pocked roads toward Kaesong.

For the second straight day, the Communists were using the convoys as shields for a massive movement of military supplies to the front. Red trucks ran almost bumper to bumper, certain that Allied planes would not dare attack lest they hit their own wounded.

Youth Center Elects Six To Board

Twin-borough American Legion Youth Center elected new board members this week.

Under the constitutional system set up for the center, two board members are elected from both Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg High School senior classes.

A junior is also selected from each school. Seniors may serve either as a collective board, with high official appointments, or select a president and vice-president from the group of four.

Named from East Stroudsburg: High School were Charles Reid and Jeanne Quinlan, seniors, and Robert Hinton, junior, who will serve as secretary.

Representing Stroudsburg High School will be John Minnich and Pat Bartholomew, seniors, and Gretchen Jordan, junior, who will be treasurer of the board.

Both new and old board members will meet Friday at 4 p.m. at the home of John Eaton to discuss closing date of the center and the possibilities of keeping the center open for the summer.

A new constitution has been worked out by Janet Stewart and Marlene Sabatine. This will also be discussed at the meeting.

Stroudsburg Native Authors Absorbing Novel Based On Breakdown Of Business Philosophy

By Leonard Randolph

FIRST VICE-PRESIDENT, 234 pp., a novel by Joan Transue, published by Doubleday and Co., Garden City, N. Y.

There is a myth, largely American in nature, about the "successful man." Not too many years ago, to be a "success" in business was considered the pinnacle of achievement. This meant "success" in the sense that material gain, alone, was a mark of distinction. As a part of the anti-romantic literary revolt of the 20's and 30's, American authors began chipping away at this myth. There were quite a few of them, and they're still coming.

Last year there was Carl Jonas whose overly-understated, clinical dissection of "Jefferson Sellick" hit the best-seller lists and stayed there for a couple of months. Before Jonas there lies a long, distinguished line of U. S. novelists—Lewis, Dreiser, John Marquand—whose principal concern has been with business and its effect on the men who are its manipulators.

Today Doubleday brings out the latest in this line of novels "about" success.

"First Vice-President" defies its drab title. It is, almost from the beginning, a colorful, absorbing, rather bitter novel centered around the breakdown of a business philosophy.

The "hero" of the novel is Norman Frumpe, a vice-president of the Kittatinny Life Insurance Co., whose life has been devoted to a dogged pursuit of success. As the book opens, Norman has begun to realize that the vice-presidency he now holds may represent the end of the ladder for him in his company. Kittatinny's boss, Wilson Gladstone, is a younger man than Frumpe. There seems little chance anything will happen to Wilson.

Because he believes he has "something to talk over" with Gladstone, Frumpe invites the boss and his wife to the summer home at Montauk. The house itself is a kind of symbol to Norman. It had once belonged to his parents, who lost it. When he had the money, Frumpe made it a point to regain the house.

Here in the summer home at Montauk—an ugly relic which none of the other members of Norman's "family" likes—Miss Transue has brought her characters together. The novel's action is confined to the weekend house party which Norman has planned minutely.

Miss Transue has drawn her characters well, especially the less important ones. She has written a novel based on tragedy without resorting to strained melodramatics. At times her portrait of Norman Frumpe stretches into petty childishness; most of the other characters have more humanity and are consequently more believable.

So long as men like Frumpe exist, however, books like "First Vice-President" need to be written. Miss Transue's account of the man obsessed with success is a better one than the previously-mentioned "Jefferson Sellick." As a first novel it is a fine, suspenseful study. One thing distinguishes "First Vice-President" perhaps more than any other. In the use of irony and the concepts of tragedy, the author shows brilliant command of her instruments.

Norman Frumpe's understanding of "success" leads the reader toward pity for him in the end. His house, his life and his vast collection of guns are a part of the false-fabric security he has woven.

Norman guarded his security jealously. He kept a loaded revolver in his bedside table "ready to blast the tenuity of a possible thief."

At the end of the long weekend, Norman Frumpe found someone had broken through his wall of security and stolen his peace of mind. He could not admit, however, that it was he who was the thief.

The author of "First Vice-President" was born in Stroudsburg Jan. 29, 1924, daughter of the late William T. Transue and Mrs. Helena Transue.

Mr. Transue was the owner of Camp Wyomissing, Minisink Hills. Mrs. Transue now lives at Shawnee-on-Delaware, as do two of the author's sisters, Mrs. Frederick O.

Seven Votes Away

Seven short of a constitutional majority needed to pass a two per cent sales tax, leadership of the House of Representatives has again postponed a show-down vote on the measure.

The measure is by no means dead. Best evidence of this is the statement by Rep. Albert W. Johnson, Republican floor leader, "Don't consider the sales tax a dead pigeon."

Democratic members of the House are solidly against the sales tax. Labor organizations are against it. Business men in border counties are against it because they can see customers going across state lines to buy merchandise to escape the tax.

Out of 27 states in the nation which have sales tax laws only one—Ohio—borders on Pennsylvania. Business opposition here is strong because New Jersey is handy to local shoppers who would want to escape the tax.

Some threat has been made that unless the sales tax passes, the state may turn back to local school districts the greater share of the burden of operating educational systems.

Even this has not worked any wonders in breaking down the small Republican core needed to provide the constitutional majority of 105 votes. There are 109 Republicans in the House. Reports indicate the Senate would have enough votes to pass a sales tax measure.

Meanwhile, Gov. John S. Fine, who had his fingers burned badly on a state income tax law drive he promoted two years ago, is leaving hands off the tax issue.

So far Rep. John S. Shotwell, Monroe, and Rep. August Metz, Pike, are holding out against a sales tax.

They are fully aware of all sources of opposition during the current week-end recess of the Legislature.

Uniting the States

President Eisenhower's invitation to the 48 state governors to a conference in Washington May 4 and 5 is a significant effort for national unity.

The President and other high Administration officials will discuss confidentially with the governors the important problems facing the nation, most particularly those involving international relations and the national defense.

It has been a long time since such a meeting was held in Washington. In fact it has been a long time since an occupant of the White House showed in any way—except to a few chosen favorites—the proper respect for governors and for the states as entities.

The fear of the trend towards centralization of power in the national government, and the accompanying loss of the individual state's authority, was an important reason for Mr. Eisenhower's election last November.

Problems which are common to the states and the Federal Government are complex and difficult. Overlapping functions, double taxation and clear lines of authority are some.

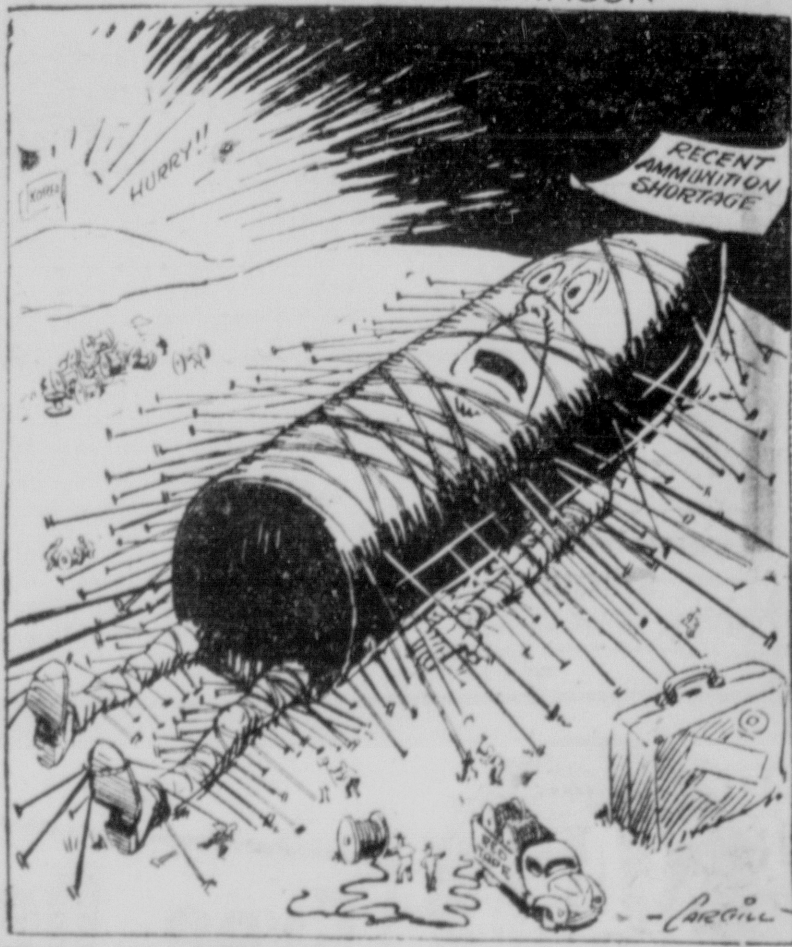

Yet they have been given little more than lip-service recognition. Possibly because this issue of a state-federal relationships lacks dramatic appeal and easy popular understanding, it has been worsened by monumental neglect.

The President's conference is evidence that at last the issue may be tackled on a scale proportionate to the need.

John Adams, who died at 80, lived longer than any other man who has been President of the United States.

Robert S. Allen Reports

Stalled Austrian Peace Treaty Is Big Red Test

Washington—The U. S. has a simple and clear-cut test for determining the sincerity of the Kremlin's peace gestures.

This fateful criterion is the long-stalled Austrian peace treaty.

What the new Soviet rulers do regarding this crucial pact will be a far more significant test of their intentions than a truce in Korea.

That is the highly important question which Secretary of State Dulles and his top assistants have voiced in discussions with members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

These influential senators have also been told that steps are already being taken on the basis of this viewpoint.

Ambassador Bohlen has instructions to seek an early resumption of the stalled Austrian negotiations. He began this effort soon after arriving in Moscow.

The plan has full British support.

That was assured as a result of Bohlen's special trip to London while enroute to Moscow.

The British Ambassador, who returned to Moscow before Bohlen reached there, has had a long talk with Foreign Minister Molotov about the Austrian treaty.

There will be other discussions, possibly jointly with Bohlen.

What's Behind It—Secretary Dulles' far-reaching concept, as explained to Senate Foreign Relations committee members, is predicated on the following underlying factors:

For the Kremlin, a truce in Korea could now prove advantageous in many ways. It would mean the end of an increasingly "unprofitable" war, while opening the way for possible economic and other difficulties for the west. On the other hand, an Austrian peace treaty could prove very costly to Russia.

The pact might be the opening wedge for breaking up the Red satellite empire.

Based for that spectacular theory is the following:

Russia's right to keep troops in Hungary and Rumania is based on a wartime agreement that these forces are necessary to protect lines of communication to Vienna. But once the Russians withdraw from Austria, as the proposed treaty requires, they would immediately lay themselves open to demands to pull out their military from Hungary and Rumania.

The effect of such clamor would be electrifying throughout all the satellite countries.

Overnight, the liberation movements would become aggressive realities. From the Baltic Sea to the Balkans the local, Moscow-imposed Communist rulers would be in direct peril.

That is why the Kremlin, for more than five years, has balked every effort to come to terms on an Austrian peace treaty.

Actually, an agreement could be reached in a few days. Only a few minor points remain to be ironed out in the draft of the pact. Only Russian obstructionism stands in the way of a speedy accord.

The U. S. proposes to force a showdown on this momentous issue as the test of Malenkov's peace offensive. What happens on the vital Austrian treaty—and not a truce in Korea—will tell the story of what is really behind the pretentious maneuvers of the new Soviet rulers.

Note: State Department chiefs have expressed divergent views on whether the Kremlin or Peiping initiated the latest Korean truce overtures. Dulles is convinced the Kremlin started them. In support of this thesis he cites the fact that Foreign Minister Chou En-lai conferred with Malenkov shortly before the Chinese suddenly announced acceptance of General Clark's month-old offer to exchange sick and wounded prisoners. But Far Eastern experts in the State Department argue that Peiping acted on its own after Stalin's death and that Malenkov had to go along.

Eatin' Food—President Eisenhower made short shrift of one personal White House problem.

He compelled the cook to stop serving "folded" at the luncheon for members of Congress.

The President laughingly related this experience to a group of guests.

"When I first started inviting folks from the Hill," the President said, "the luncheon menus were hardly what you would call substantial. So I called in the cook and demanded some real food, like we're having today, good roast beef. But the cook told me that if I wanted to change the menu, I'd have to take it up with my doctor, General Snyder. So I had a talk with him, and he agreed that you gentlemen should get something besides folded."

"What's that?" asked a congressman.

"That's what I call squash and things like that," chuckled the President.

Americans Misunderstand Korean War; Why U.S. Acts As Reflex To Red Leaders

WHAT THEY WANT TO KNOW

I am writing this column in New Orleans where I have been red discovering the obvious, namely, that we are a nation of great complexity and that a shrimp need not taste soggy when its jacket is removed.

New Orleans is a city of perfect taste in food, and of such honky-tonkism in amusements as only the tourists who seek dirty postal cards in Paris can demand. The Cathedral of St. Louis is an architectural and spiritual gem and has been preserved lovingly.

But this is not to be a Cook's Tour of New Orleans, which I can write now, having been here only three days. On the fifth day, one ceases to be an expert. I am told. It used to be like that in China: If the tourist did not write a book, solving all China's problems, as soon as he arrived, he never wrote one.

On the several trips I have taken this year to various parts of the country, I have been asked literally hundreds of questions, usually in audiences ranging from high school students to great men of affairs. The questions run in patterns and are nearly always the same in essence. These are the patterns:

1. There is considerable puzzlement that the Eisenhower Administration does not take hold.

While President Eisenhower is popular, no one voted for an Administration by businessmen. The businessmen in the Administration are not establishing a reputation for political competence.

When I say that President Eisenhower is entitled to time, the question usually comes back swiftly, "How much time do these businessmen need to learn how to administer a government?"

2. People expected the Republicans to produce a sharp break with the Acheson-Truman conduct of foreign affairs and with the offensive personnel in government, particularly subversives and homosexuals. I encountered numerous inquiries as to why that does not come about.

Whereas in university and liberal circles, I find a tendency to violent criticism of the Congressional committees investigating subversives, most other conversations produce a sure support for these committees. Somehow they are all identified with Senator McCarthy. Those who are antagonistic blame him for whatever they dislike in Congress; on the other hand, McCarthy is often praised for what he has not done. In the opinion of many, he is the leader of the Republican Party.

3. Most Americans continue not to understand the following issues:

A. The Korean War;

B. The nature of Soviet Russia and why our government acts as a reflex to Kremlin leadership;

C. What the Bolshevik Revolution is and what it has accomplished.

Conversations on these subjects are fuzzy, confused, and often incoherent. The tendency is to disbelieve anything that the State Department says on these subjects. Whereas, I had hoped that John Foster Dulles might develop into a leader of American public opinion, that has not happened. In the public mind, he is identified with puzzling contradictions. For instance, regarding his support of Charles Bohlen, the question was often asked why it was so important to start a fight over the guy.

4. Taxes remain at the bottom of the hit parade. A lot of members of Congress will be defeated if taxes are not reduced. When it was suggested that the Republicans are proposing to delay tax cuts until 1954, so that they will have an argument to win that election, a snicker usually passed in the crowd. If taxes are not cut before March 15, 1954, the Republicans will have very bad news in November, 1954. Many say they voted for Eisenhower because he had said, during the campaign, that he could cut the budget.

The Secretary of the Treasury is unknown to the American people. They do not know his name, his face, or his personality. If the Eisenhower fiscal policies are to be made popular, somebody ought to make George Humphrey an American figure. No Cabinet officer can afford politically to be nameless and faceless. It is an obvious political and even a public error for the President's Cabinet to be so remote from the American people.

Americans despise those whom they call "stuffed shirts." They feel that way about the businessmen who have come into government. As long as economic conditions are booming, the trend is in the direction of not pushing doubts into protests. But any down-turn could produce an unfavorable situation. There is no backlog of confidence in the men about Eisenhower.

For the Record

—by Granville Hicks

MAKING DEMOCRACY WORK

—by Upton Sinclair

(One of America's most distinguished novelists, Mr. Sinclair has most recently written "The Return of Lanny Budd.")

Eight years ago we thought we had won a war. But now we have discovered that we have raised up a new enemy more deadly than the old, a fanaticism implacable and firmly convinced that it is destined to take possession of the whole world.

Soviet Communism, even with Stalin gone, is far more dangerous than German Nazism or Italian Fascism, for these movements were frankly nationalistic. But the Russians wear a camouflage of internationalism. They have set up a cruelty and a terror so dreadful that civilized man cannot be persuaded to believe that it is real.

They take all the words which civilized people hold sacred—democratic, liberal, progressive—they twist these words to their own purposes and thus poison our thinking at its source.

We are in a "cold war" which may go on for the next ten or twenty years, or which may turn hot tomorrow—we have no way of knowing which is going to happen. And we cannot win this war alone. We must have allies. We must have the help of the free enlightened peoples of Europe; we must have the peoples of the British Commonwealth and we must have the half-fit peoples of Asia aspiring to a better life, to the benefits of that civilization which we Americans have helped to create.

We send them motion pictures which show them all the wonders of our machine age. We show them motor cars and skyscrapers and elegant chromium plated kitchens, and they want these things.

We tell them they can get these things by working hard, but the Communists tell them they are only working for the landlords and moneylenders; and what do we have to answer?

It is not enough that we send these people money, because the Communists tell them, first, that we are trying to buy away their freedom, and second, that anyhow it is the landlords and the moneylenders who get most of the money—and, unfortunately, that is true. If we are going to win these people as our Allies, it is not enough to speak beautiful words to them, we have to convince them that we understand their problems and that we can help them to find their way toward not only political freedom but social justice as well.

Not long ago President Eisenhower set forth a program, "Let Asiatics fight Asiatics." Those words I thought were the crudest which had been spoken since Commodore Vanderbilt, the railroad magnate, said, "The public be damned."

The Communists are making certain that every Asiatic shall hear those words, and not once but many times. And recently our new Secretary of Defense stated before a Senate committee that the interests of his huge corporation were identical with the interests of the country and vice versa.

I wonder, does Mr. Wilson believe that the interests of General Motors are identical with those of the Asiatics? I doubt if he has ever given any thought to the question, and I am quite sure he would not know how to convince the Asiatics of the truth of that statement.

These words are not quoted to indict our newly-chosen government. We have our new President for four years, and we have our Congress for about two years.

All that a writer can do is to plead with them to weigh their words before they speak, and realize that when they speak of Asiatics they are speaking of something like a billion human beings, most of them poverty-stricken, miserable and bewildered.

They have to persuade them that we not merely care about them and their troubles, but that we know how to help them and really wish to do it; that we think of them as human beings and not merely as pawns in a great international chess game, as troops expendable in a world war, cold or hot.

We have to realize that democracy applies not merely to politics and consists not merely in voting on election day, but that it is a thing that applies to the whole of life. It means the right to think and to speak and to demand changes in social conditions which have kept the masses of people in ignorance and poverty through uncounted ages.

The Once Over

—by H. I. Phillips

Science, You're Wonderful

A scientist says machines will soon be able to reproduce themselves, a pair presumably settling down and raising a family. It seems fantastic, but this is a day of incredible events. (We have a couple of power lawnmowers which are not working very well this season and it occurs to us that they have felt the spring urge and are in love.) We were discussing the reproductivity of machines with one of our composing room printers yesterday. His linotype was giving him trouble and he declared, "It's been acting sentimental lately. Maybe I should tell it about the birds and bees."

We view the scientist's predictions with alarm. This is a machine age and once the machines start reproducing they may outnumber the human beings. Something of the sort has perhaps been going on for some time; a lot of people act like machines, and it could be true that certain individuals in high places in this world are not really people at all, but lathes and spindles in pants and coats. The very idea of machinery having a Romeo and Juliet side moves us to verse.

The turret-lathe was not herself. She cooed just like a dove; So moodily was she on the job. It showed she was in love; The power-press loafed all day long.

And seldom did a thing; The engine-room came to a halt. And murmured, "This is spring!"

II

The big transformer yawned and yawned— The drill-chuck seemed quite fat; A spindle breathed quite heavily. And whispered, "Love's like that!"

Outside a trailer smiled upon A robin by a gate, And, coming to a sudden stop, Called loudly to its mate!

III

A welder went quite off the beam A die-press went "twee twee!" Two linotypes cried, "Shall we dance?"

The drop-forge skipped a beat; A passing auto chirped a song

And got an answer clear: The pair of 'em romped to the woods...

'Twas plain that spring was here!

Report Given On Tree-Shrub Distribution

Report of the distribution of 35,500 trees, 9,000 shrubs and 16,000 multi-flora rose to cooperators of Monroe County Soil Conservation District was given Wednesday night by Norman Dietrick when the board of directors met at the Court House, Stroudsburg. Dietrick is soil conservation service technician for this region.

John H. Kunkle, board member, explained proposals to locate Edison Park at Delaware Water Gap and review of work by the district during the month was discussed.

Donald deOtte, chairman, presided. Henry Yetter, secretary, submitted his report. Also attending were John Deubling and Oscar Kimmel, of Harrisburg, representing the State Soil Conservation Commission.

General Lafayette, the Frenchman who served under George Washington, received $200,000 from Congress.

Nelson Smith Heads Pocono Fire Company

Nelson Smith, Tannersville, was elected president of the Pocono Township Volunteer Fire Co. for 1953-1954.

He succeeds George Newhart, retiring.

Elections were held at the firehouse in Tannersville Wednesday night. Other officers elected: William Raish, vice-president; Charles Van Seiver, recording secretary; Willard Auglemyer, financial secretary; John Smith, treasurer; chief, Edward Metzgar (re-elected); assistant chief, Horace Raish; second assistant chief, John Smiley; engineer, Fred Metzgar; trustees, elected to replace vacancies, Alan Bryson and Russell Werkheiser.

Report for the year of April 1, 1952 to April 1, 1953, was made by Chief Metzgar. He reported 18 runs, with a traveled distance of 165 miles. There were 11 grass and seven building fires. Fourteen of the fires occurred in Pocono Township, two in Jackson, one in Hamilton and one in Paradise. In other words, the chief said, about 26 per cent of the fires were outside the township.

Since the company was organized in 1940 there have been 170 runs made—an average of more than 14 per year.

The outstanding fire in 1952 occurred June 30 at the Silver Gray Inn, following an accident in which the inn was fired by a runaway truck which smashed into the building. About 2,000 feet of 2½ inch hose was laid and 80,000 gallons of water were pumped. More than 3,000 gallons of water were hauled in by the fire truck.

There has been no change in last year's Civil Aeronautics Board ruling relating to air service for Monroe County.

A number of county residents telephoned The Daily Record to inquire if a new ruling had been issued in connection with Allegheny Airlines.

The answer is no. CAB last Summer authorized that airline to provide service from Pittsburgh to New York and Cleveland to New York. In both route schedules the airline would be permitted to land at what is listed as Stroudsburg-East Stroudsburg, at Mount Pocono Airport. The same ruling is still in effect. It was issued for seven years.

But there still can be no service at present. There is not now an airport in the county on which a commercial line could land routine flights.

35 New Pupils To Enroll In Barrett School

Cresco — Barrett Township School directors met this week at the high school.

Bills in the amount of $11,707.29 were approved for payment. A calendar for the 1953-54 school year was also approved.

Andrew Lewis, principal of the school, reported that between 35 and 38 new students were expected to enroll in the school for the 1953 Fall term.

Members of the board attending were Harry J. Drennan, Theodore Vernoy, Earl Rose, J. Reed Siglin, H. Irwin Shinnen, and Albert C. Sieg Jr., non-member, secretary.

A letter from David Jamieson of the Bureau of Social Security, Department of Labor and Industry, said approval had been given by the State April 8, and the program has been accepted by the Federal government.

The plan provides coverage for all county employees from Jan. 1, 1952.

Two Workmen Suffers Cuts

Car, Truck Collide On Route 209

An accident involving an automobile and a truck occurred shortly before 10:30 last night about a half mile west of Shaffer's schoolhouse on Route 209 west of Stroudsburg.

Frank Van Why, of East Stroudsburg RD3, was driving the sedan. Howard Eisner, of Williamsport, was operator of the truck, which is owned by H. J. Benfer and H. B. Rice, also of Williamsport.

Eisner told State Troopers Evan Chaplin and Joseph Murphy that he was traveling east toward Stroudsburg and was on his right side of the highway when he noticed the Van Why car coming at him in the wrong lane.

Eisner said he swung his truck sharply left in the hope of avoiding a collision, but that the front of the sedan struck the right front of the truck.

Investigating troopers said they would file charges of violating the motor code against Van Why.

Damages were estimated at $400 to the car and $100 to the truck. The latter was able to proceed on its way, but the car had to be towed from the scene. There were no injuries.

Walter Cited For Golden Deeds Award

U. S. Congressman Francis E. Walter was named winner of the Eastern Exchange Club's "Golden Deeds" award for 1953.

The award will be made at a dinner at Hotel Easton May 7. Rep. Walter was selected because of his "distinguished service to the community."

Rep. Walter, a Democrat, was returned to office last November despite the Eisenhower victory. He is the ranking minority member of the House Un-American Activities Committee and the Committee on Immigration. He is also co-author of the McCarran-Walter Act which codified the present U. S. Immigration law.

Rev. Eaton To Speak At Y Meeting

Rev. Harold Eaton, of the East Stroudsburg Methodist Church will give the "pep talk" at the second general report meeting of the YMCA Building Fund Campaign, to be held at the Penn-Stroud Hotel at 6:15 p. m. today.

Holt Wyckoff, general co-chairman in charge of the Teams Organization, said the captains and workers are determined to have a fine report.

The invocation will be given by Rev. Roger C. Stinson, pastor of the Stroudsburg Methodist Church. Holt Wyckoff, general co-chairman will preside.

Awards will be presented to the quota-busters and first citizens. The singing will be led by Robert Haigh, accompanied by Albert DeRenzi.

Full attendance of all workers is urged. Those few who may be unavoidably absent are requested to send in their report envelopes to the auditors.

Beside the usual awards a prize of a dressed chicken will be given by Holt Wyckoff to the captain with the best score at the second report. The high ten teams in order of their standing are as follows: Clinton Boushell, Team 11; James Sommers, Team 36; Leon J. Koster, Team 22; William Wells, Team 37; Miss Marie Cody, Team 27; Roger Dunning, Team 1; John W. Sibley, Team 5; Frank Thomas, Team 2; Larry Levy, Team 33 and Kennard Lewis, Team 15.

The high five divisions are: Max Stadfeld, Div. VIII; Fred H. Rhodes, Div. I; Thomas L. Kistler, Div. III; Horace Walters, Div. V and Miss Joyce Rutt, Div. VI.

Some prospective subscribers are telephoning into the office saying that workers have not yet called on them.

C. R. Gillam, general co-chairman in charge of the Special Gifts Committee, said his committee will meet with the Teams Organization Friday night.

A special skit entitled "A Job Ahead And Some Suggestions As How To Do It" will be presented by a cast consisting of Holt Wyckoff as master of ceremonies, Pete Wyckoff as Mr. Wrong, T. Manning Curtis as Mr. Right and Mrs. Sara Kresge as Mrs. "Got Rocks".

Mrs. Laura Osborne entertained for dinner Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hogenfeld, Larry and Saville, of Sussex, N. J., Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Osborne, Lewis and John, Donald Schlit, all of Jersey City, N. J., and Mr. and Mrs. Layton Osborne. After dinner the group motored to Bartonsville to call on Mr. and Mrs. Charles Getz.

Mrs. Clyde Jewel, of Bangor, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Roitsee, has gone to Stroudsburg to visit a few days with her nephew and niece, Vere Newhart and Miss Ruth Newhart.

C. Redzig, who has added to a garage on his Main Street property and turned it into a modern cottage, is now planning with Water Commissioner Frank Howard the best way to bring water into the building.

The grounds around the war veterans' memorial have been raked and cleaned up to await the blooming of the dogwood plants.

The Presbyterian Church expected to have Donald Hostetter as a candidate minister Sunday morning but he accepted a call to another church. The local congregation welcomed Roger L. Beach, a senior at Princeton, who was here in November.

This week's birthday celebrants are Mrs. James Anthony III, who celebrated Monday, April 13 and James Anthony, III, who celebrated Wednesday, April 15. Mrs. H. J. LaBar has a birthday next Sunday, April 19. Two former residents mark their birthdays this week also; Mrs. Joe Webster, of Monroe St., Stroudsburg, and Mrs. Howard Randt, of Bethlehem.

Mrs. Fred Shoemaker, president of the PTA and Mrs. Lillian Marshall and Mrs. Alys Morton, teachers, took charge of the postponed egg hunt Friday afternoon. It was held inside. In addition to the colored eggs which mothers and friends donated, each child received a chocolate egg and a dime. Eleven children were absent due to illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren MacDonald, newlyweds from Philadelphia, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. John Mitchell. Some years ago the young people were sponsors at the baptism of Estelle Mitchell. Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell responded by standing up with the MacDonalds when they were married in the Episcopal Church in Philadelphia a week ago.

Miss Stella Skidmore returned Monday from a week's visit with her nephew and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Skidmore, of Philadelphia.

Mrs. Mildred Buzzard, who has given six months of leadership to the Junior Youth Fellowship, has been succeeded for the next period by Mrs. Francis Drake and Mrs. Elam Gray.

Rev. Robert Bradburn, of Shawnee, moderator for the local Presbyterian Church, will serve communion in the church next Sunday morning.

We are proud to announce that we have just been awarded the Quarter Century Service Pin from the Pyrofax Gas Company, for our 25 years of PYROFAX GAS SERVICE.

College Girl To Study In France

Another East Stroudsburg State Teachers College student has received a Fulbright scholarship to study in France.

Local college authorities have been notified by State Department officials that Miss Elaine D. Heines, a senior student at the college, will receive the scholarship for the purpose of the scholarship will be for further study of the French language and literature.

Miss Heines has been assigned to the University of Poitiers for the first semester and to the University of Paris for the second.

She is the daughter of Mrs. William Heines of Saratoga Springs, N.Y. Miss Heines was recommended for the Fulbright by Dr. Ruth B. Kistler, professor of French and Fulbright Adviser at ESSTC. Miss Heines is now student-teaching French in the Stroudsburg High School.

She will be one of approximately 240 students from all over the U.S. to be awarded a grant for study in France. This award is made under provisions of Public Law 584, 79th Congress, known as The Fulbright Act in honor of its author, the senator from Arkansas.

The act's provisions authorize the use of foreign currencies obtained through surplus properties abroad for exchange student programs worked out with other governments.

Miss Velia Fiori, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fiori, Portland, a 1951 graduate from the local college, is studying in France this year at the University of Poitiers as a recipient of a Fulbright scholarship.

Miss Elaine D. Heines

Starlings Build Nest In Airplane

Washington (AP)—Here's one for the birds.

Benedict Fitzgerald, taking off from National Airport in his private plane, saw smoke and flames streaming from the engine.

He was only 10 feet up and landed safely.

Firemen racing to the scene helped him remove the remains of a nest and three baby starlings. Mama and papa bird had unwisely built their nest beside the exhaust pipe.

Pocono FFA Holds Contest In Speaking

Pen Argyl—Winners in area Pocono Mountain FFA public speaking and parliamentary procedure contests were announced this week.

Winners in public speaking were James Lilly, Pen Argyl, who spoke on "Our American Land" for first prize and William Furler, Polk, second award for "Farm Ponds". Parliamentary procedure winners were Pen Argyl, first place, and Polk, second.

Members of the winning team were Gerald Kessler, Henry Achenbach, Donald Mack, Allen Howler, Russell Hahn, Robert Coleman and Elwood Mack.

Judges in the competition were Dr. Nathan D. Meyer, State Teachers College, and Alfred Munson, Stroudsburg High School principal.

Winners in each event will represent the area in the FFA regional contest at Tunkhannock, Monday, April 27.

Tall Cedars Play Hosts At Banquet

One hundred members of Tall Cedars of Lebanon Lodge, Pocono Forest No. 124 and other Masons, and their wives, attended a ladies night banquet at the Elks Club in East Stroudsburg Wednesday.

Presiding was Edward Eisenberger, grand tall cedar. Visitors included District Representative Stanley Stephens, Allentown; and past supreme tall cedar Herman Willaredt, Mont Clair, Pa., now treasurer of the muscular dystrophy fund of Tall Cedars.

Entertainment followed the dinner and speakers.

Advances In Girl Scouting Noted At Annual Council

Mrs. Harold E. Edwards, president of the Red Feather Girl Scout Council of Monroe County for the past six years, last night turned over the reins of office to the newly-elected president, Mrs. LeRoy J. Koehler at the annual Spring meeting of the council held at a dinner at the Marshalls Creek firehouse with the fire company auxiliary serving the supper.

Reports given at the meeting, indicated the growth of the Girl Scout movement in the county within those six years. There are now 30 troops registered in the county with 418 members in addition to a volunteer adult registration of 156 including leaders, troop committee members, board and standing committee members.

The Girl Scouts during that period have purchased their own Girl Scout House on Sarah Street, on which they have already paid five bonds, and have built their own Camp Lloyd Treble on Mosier's Knob.

Mrs. Koehler, who has served as first vice president and chairman of the Girl Scout House Committee, paid tribute to the leadership of Mrs. Edwards as she took office.

Other officers elected last night included Mrs. H. T. Siaboski, first vice president; Mrs. Harold C. Edwards, second vice president; Mrs. Charles Ehrig, recording secretary; Mrs. Andrew Lewicki, corresponding secretary; Horace Westbrook, treasurer, and Mrs. Walter Dreher, registrar.

Elected to the board of directors were Mrs. Harry Heller, president of the Leaders Association, and as new members Mrs. Harlan Bard, Mrs. Alfred Munson and Mrs. Harold James.

Mrs. Koehler named the chairmen of the various committees who will serve with her, and the annual reports were given.

Mrs. William G. Miller, camping chairman, reported that the Day Camp would this year be held for three weeks rather than two at Camp Lloyd Treble, during the weeks of June 22, 29, and July 5, with a camping fee of $3. The committee plans to have lockers constructed to hold camping material, and reported the gift of $10 from Mrs. Raymond Hartman's troop of Minisk Hills, and of a fireplace screen from Mrs. Edwards.

Mrs. Frank Weiss gave the report of the budget committee; Dr. Madelon Powers of the Juliette Lowe Committee; Horace Westbrook of the nominating committee and the treasurer's report, and Mrs. Koehler of the house committee.

Mrs. Harry Heller, president of the Leaders Association, announced that Mrs. Alfred Munson's troop by selling 502 boxes of cookies would be the guests of the management at the Stroud Roller Rink. She also announced that the board would present two camperships, one to the Intermediate and one to the Brownie who has sold the most cookies.

Mrs. Russell Smith, cookie chairman, reported that $658.99 had been raised through the cookie sale to date.

Mrs. Heller also announced a bake sale to be held June 12 by the leaders for the camp fund.

Mrs. Sonia James, chairman of calendar sales, reported that in the first year the Scouts had raised $457 through sale of the national Girl Scout calendar in which she was responsible for selecting local models.

Effort. Mrs. Nellie Miller of Rachel Broadhead Rebekah Lodge, Stroudsburg, paid her official visit to the Pohopoco Rebekahs at Effort on Thursday night.

Prize winners in the Easter Hat parade which followed were Mrs. Homer Shupp and Mrs. Harry Weiss. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Harriet Switzgabel.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

I'm all for joining in the Monroe County Garden Club's poison ivy eradication campaign—that is if they'll start at my house. We have a barberry hedge in a very necessary place—necessary to keep me from backing the car over the wall, anyway—and it's become so infested with poison ivy that there's more ivy than barberry.

We tried digging it out by the roots as our permanent barberry scratches will testify—we tried hitting it to the car and pulling it out. Still it flourishes—and these preparations that kill poison ivy also kill barberry. Be a good test for the Garden Club, don't you think?

Or for the Girl Scouts—seems nothing those girls and their leaders and officers can't accomplish. That annual report was really something. Jesse Flory was there on behalf of the Y but he also had to pat the Girl Scouts on the back for accomplishing so much with a minimum of funds and fuss.

Though, nobody but the officers and the leaders themselves know how many hours of figuring and preparation and worry went into that success, thanks to a community which seems always willing to help those who help themselves.

Those roses which Mrs. Harry Heller gave Mrs. Harold Edwards from the board members in appreciation were beautiful, but what they deserve are stars in their crowns.

Kenneth Bond Married To Miss Montroy

Miss Beverly Montroy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Norelli of 2436 Hay Street in Easton, and Kenneth O. Bond, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Bond, of Effort were married on Tuesday, April 14 at St. John's Lutheran and Reformed Church at Effort at five in the afternoon.

Rev. Alton Albright performed the ceremony with Mrs. Stanley B. Rader serving as pianist. The church was decorated with bouquets of white gladioli in the altar vases, and sprays of forsythia around the candles which were lighted in each window. Lee Shupp, son of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy J. Shupp of Effort served as altar boy and lit the candles.

The bride wore a gray suit with white accessories and a corsage of pink roses. Mrs. Earl Shafer, of Tatamy was matron of honor. Her dress was of navy blue crepe, and with it she wore navy accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

Earl Shafer of Tatamy, uncle of the bridegroom, was the best man.

The bride's mother on whose birthday the wedding was held wore a gray suit with violet accessories and a corsage of violet. The bridegroom's mother wore Navy blue crepe dress with navy accessories and a corsage of red roses.

Following the ceremony, a reception for 100 guests was held at the Pohopoco Hotel in Effort. The bride's table was decorated with daffodils, white candles. The three tier-wedding cake was set against a canopy of white streamers, and white wedding bells hung above the bride's table.

After a wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Bond will make their home with the bridegroom's parents in Effort. The bride is a graduate of St. Mary's Academy in Ogdensburg, N. Y., and a member of St. Mary's Cathedral. She has been associated with her mother in operating a diner.

Mr. Bond attended Chestnut Hill High School, served in the Air Forces during World War II and is now engaged in the management of the Mount Effort Restaurant and Garage. He is a member of the West End American Legion and of St. John's Reformed Church.

Bird Calls At Garden Club Spring Meeting

The club rooms at the YMCA yesterday echoed with bird calls at the conservation meeting of the Monroe County Garden Club, when Dr. Claude Leister of the Pocono Wild Animal Farm talked not on "Bird Conservation," but "bird conversation."

He illustrated his talk with recorded bird songs from the laboratory of ornithology at Cornell University where he was formerly on the faculty.

He was introduced by Mrs. Edward C. Knob, bird chairman, who had also arranged an exhibit of stuffed birds, loaned by Roger Dunning, principal of the Stroudsburg elementary schools.

Mrs. Knob announced a course in bird banding each Sunday during May at Bowman's Hall Wild Flower preserve, leading to a license.

Mrs. Irving Kiffin, conservation chairman, urged that Boy Scouts be encouraged to gather tent caterpillar nests to help eradicate the moths, and suggested an "eradication of poison ivy" campaign in the county, and read one of her own poems "So Soon the Spring," published under her maiden name.

Mrs. John Glasson provided material pertaining to birds.

Birds, also marked the opening of the meeting when Mrs. Elwood Grant, president, found a good word to say for the English sparrow and starling who are much maligned.

Communications came from Senator Montgomery F. Crowe, State Representative John Shotwell who pledged their support to Bills 114, 121, and 122 dealing with roadsides.

Special spring arrangements by the members featured forsythia, Johnny jumpers, mountain pink, grape hyacinths, primroses, daffodils, jonquils, forget-me-nots, tulips, blue bells, flowering crab, and cherry blossoms, arranged in varying containers by Mrs. Elmer Kiefer Jr., Mrs. Frank Piper, Mrs. Jay Peters, Mrs. A. H. Mathieson, Mrs. Claude Cramer, Mrs. Elwood Grant, Mrs. Harold Lanterman, Mrs. Russell Custard, Mrs. W. R. Erickson, and Miss Fannie Swartzweider.

Banks of forsythia brightened the club room and the tea table was set with a white miniature surry filled with daffodils, forsythia and grape hyacinths, with yellow candles surrounding the tea table filled with "tasties" from the pantries of members.

Linen Shower Is Given For Florence Weary

A linen shower was given for Mrs. Florence Weary, bride-to-be, at the Italian Club. She received many gifts.

Guests included Mrs. Paul Weary, Catherine Pansy, Ann Pansy, Lydia Warnick, Grace Welter, Millie Woodrow, Rose Gallazo, Lois Super, Madelyn La-Penna and the guest of honor, Miss Florence Weary.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Carolyn Vinyard and Mrs. Mary Vinyard.

Society Of 28th, Aux. Represented At Board Meeting

The local Society of the 28th Division and its Auxiliary were both represented at the meeting of the executive boards held in Harrisburg on April 12.

Attending from here were Mrs. Horatio Haas Jr., Mrs. Edward McCarrick Sr., Mrs. John Sip-troth, Mrs. George Mosher, and Mrs. Stanley Sipthroth, who is central vice president. Men from the Post 56 were Horatio Haas Jr., and Stanley Sipthroth, central vice commander.

The national auxiliary president, Levenia Begley, and her committee presented Scotland School with a 24-inch television set to be used in cottage 12, and also gave the 400 children at Scotland School a box of candy for Easter. The children at Scotland School are all children of veterans of the armed forces from Pennsylvania. Their graduation exercises will be held June 13, and are open to everyone.

At the convention, also plans were made for Memorial Services to be held at the Boalsburg Shrine on Sunday, May 24 when the monument will be dedicated. All local units and auxiliaries are invited to attend the memorial service and the national convention to be held in Harrisburg the week of July 22.

THE
SHOPPER

After yesterday, I'm inclined to say that anyone who wants to attract a crowd need only spread out a lot of flowers and begin making them into bouquets. Women confronted with flowers react the same way a man does when a building is going up or an excavation is going down... they gather around, offer a word of advice or commiseration here and there, and seem to derive intense satisfaction from whatever information they are given.

Not that I blame them. They many momentarily impede progress—but they certainly do give the worker a pretty good idea as to the job she's doing, and how it rates from the other fellow's viewpoint.

The biggest problem yesterday, as I look back upon it, was just where to put all the flowers. Edna Brockman suggested the receiving room—but that was filled to overflowing with merchandise being ticketed. Someone else suggested an office—but that was too busy. The only available space seemed to be in the electric shop, and that was scant enough when one considered the ice cream special going on there and the sewing demonstrations on the Necchi and Elma machines. Nevertheless, we spread our rainbow of anemones and sweetpeas over the electric stoves and went to work. It didn't seem like a practical idea at first, but as Blanche Mackey informed us, "You just can't hurt the porcelain top of any of these stoves. They're made to be worked on." And she was right.

Another thing we learned as we formed our "daisy chain" production line, was that most people don't know an anemone when they see one. That was cheering to me, for when I first saw the buds, I thought we were dealing with miniature tulips. As they unfolded, I thought they were poppies. That was the way with a lot of other people... but we all agreed they were pretty special by whatever name you might call them.

Finally the work was done... 165 colorful bouquets in clear blue vases were waiting to be placed upon the table as favors at Mr. Wyckoff's party for 50 year customers. Nita Warner carried the trays back to the Tea Room, where the tables were being set up, and everyone was bustling around in happy preparation. As we scurried around attending to more routine matters, we'd occasionally meet Edna, and she was usually taking a call from someone asking at what time the dinner was to be served.

Upstairs Peta Wyckoff, Arthur Widmer, Edna Harmon, Blanche Mackey, Little Mabel Anderson and Dottie Dunn were rehearsing the program, recalling episodes from store annals of the past 78 years. Downstairs in the main aisle customers milled around the candy and cookie counters, and upstairs our "Thank You Special" sheets were having a brisk turnover.

To the individual, a birthday is a piece of cake and a present. To a store, it's countless projects and hundreds of specials. But it's always exciting at Wyckoff's—for each year is a sign of growth, vigor, and achievement. And each anniversary opens the door on a new year which we believe will be better than ever.

Irving Jacobs To Complete 48 Years As Merchandiser

A veteran of 48 years in the retail merchandising field, Irving Jacobs, announced this week he will retire from active business.

Owner of the Bon Ton Store at 32 Washington St., East Stroudsburg, Jacobs devoted 31 years to business in the Stroudsburg. A sale beginning today will close out stock and mark the end of his active retail career.

Jacobs started in New York City and before moving here was a buyer for a Trenton, N. J. department store. The East Stroudsburg store formerly was known as the Daylight Store and was operated by Joseph Weiss. Jacobs began business there with his Bon Ton in February, 1922.

An extensive remodeling program is nearing completion at the Firestone Store, 308 Washington St., East Stroudsburg.

Managed by Robert Reeves, the addition of new display cabinets and wall racks allows for an augmented supply. Stock embraces the automotive, sports, toys, garden implements, appliance, radio, and bicycle lines and a manifold list of other articles.

Joseph Pullo, of Roseto, has been named to represent Niagara Health Equipment Co. in Monroe County. Pullo formerly confined his salesmanship efforts to the State Belt region.

Mrs. Georgianna Lichtenberger, new owner of Ann's Dress Shop, 308 Main St., Stroudsburg, will officially open her shop today and tomorrow.

Formerly owned by Ann Davis Polovich, who operated the shop 17 years, Mrs. Lichtenberger assumed the business after Mrs. Polovich moved to Nesquehoning March 21.

Stroudsburg Dean Phillips Store, original member of the chain which now numbers 64 across Pennsylvania, New Jersey and New York, this week began a remodeling program.

Robert Reich, manager, announced asphalt tile flooring will replace the wooden floor and new display tables will enable the store to better display its merchandise.

Two new fluorescent lights also have been added and adjustable tables and new wall racks provide more aisle space and added room to exhibit the tire supply.

Started about 30 years ago as a single store on Lower Main St., Stroudsburg, the chain handles automotive supplies and numerous other articles.

Mikels Motors, Inc., 1061 N. Ninth St., Stroudsburg, this week opened a modern used auto lot adjoining its showrooms. Cadillac-Oldsmobile dealers, the firm is headed by LeRoy Mikels and his son Warren.

Thomson Seeking Suit Dismissal

Harrisburg (AP)—The Dauphin County Court has been asked to dismiss a suit against H. A. Thomson, secretary of the Pennsylvania Township Supervisors Association, as "fatally defective."

Three supervisors sought to restrain Thomson through a court suit on April 2 from spending association funds and require him to make an accounting of association affairs since 1946.

John Y. Scott, Harrisburg attorney for Thomson, said in his answer that the supervisors were not members of the association and were not eligible to file the suit. He said the state organization was composed of local township associations.

Percy Price Transferred To Newport

Percy L. Price Jr., East Stroudsburg, has been transferred to a Naval Station at Newport, R.I.

Price was formerly stationed at Norfolk, Va. Son of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Price, 388 Broadhead Ave., East Stroudsburg, he entered the Navy last December, completed basic training at San Diego, Cal., March 14.

After spending a two-week furlough with his parents, Price returned to Norfolk, Va., where he remained until his transfer was effected April 8.

He can be reached by writing to Percy L. Price Jr., 452-07-02, USS Woodson, (DE359), Newport, R.I.

A graduate of East Stroudsburg High School in 1951, he was an apprentice carpenter before entering service.

Schwartz Denounces Drive Aimed At Literature On Catholic Group's Blacklist

An East Stroudsburg newsdealer, now attending a convention of Atlantic Coast distributors in New York, stated clear opposition last night to a drive against allegedly "obscene" literature by the Holy Name Society of St. Matthew's Catholic Church.

Sumar Schwartz, manager of the Tri-States Newsdealers Supply Co., told The Daily Record last night "I believe that, as Americans, we have a right to choose our own literature."

"No minority group has the right to censor the literature we read or the books made available to us," Mr. Schwartz continued.

Such attempts, the newsdealer pointed out, are in direct opposition to provisions of the U. S. Constitution and its First Amendment guaranteeing freedom of the press.

"As it was drawn up by the founders of our nation," Mr. Schwartz declared, "the Constitution prohibits any single group from making its standards compulsory for all the people. When the Constitution's signers put their approval on that document they anticipated the prevailing good taste of the majority of America's people."

"What this campaign actually amounts to is censorship," he said.

The Holy Name Society began its drive on "objectionable" material last month. Members of the society were appointed in "teams" to visit all newsstands and candy counters in the twin boroughs area, requesting dealers to remove books, comics and magazines listed by the National Organization for Decent Literature from their shelves.

According to the society, those dealers who cooperated with them would receive "favorable" publicity. Those who did not would be reported through channels to the Scranton Diocese, the society said.

Tri-States, which serves as dealer outlet for more than half a hundred newsdealers in this area and New Jersey, told dealers to use their own judgment in coping with the situation.

At the convention of the Atlantic Coast Independent Distributors Association, which he is now attending in New York City, Mr. Schwartz said the dealers were carrying on lengthy discussion of the attempted censorship.

Included on the convention's program this week was an address by Rep. Emmanuel Celler (D-N.Y.) in which Congressman Celler told the assembled dealers:

"I think there are few more insulting experiences than to be told that we must be protected from certain literature. "Free individuals want to choose for themselves . . . to discard or embrace ideas as they choose."

"What disheartens me," Rep. Celler continued, "is not the existence of these vigilante groups."

"The sight of a cringing book-seller is food for the censor," the congressman said. "Such a sight makes the censor swell until he thinks he is a giant."

"The general consensus" among newsdealers attending the convention, Mr. Schwartz said, was that "minority group hasn't the right to censor."

"We cannot make books unavailable to adults simply because their contents or covers are unacceptable for children," he continued.

"Coercion has never solved a problem of morality or good taste," he said.

Mr. Schwartz challenged anyone to find an obscene or salacious publication among the thousands on display in Tri-States storehouse.

So far, he said, the society's drive hasn't hurt Tri-States business. He doesn't think that it will.

In case it should, he said, he intends to open the East Stroudsburg office of Tri-States to the public and "advertise for sale every book that's been banned."

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Being elected president of the Monroe County Softball League for the 1953 season was sort of a comeback for likeable Jack Mullins. Jack was president and one of the organizers back in 1940, when the circuit was first formed. Mullins also served as president of the league in 1941, before becoming just an interested fan, prior to taking over the leadership duties once again on Wednesday. From this angle the choice of Mullins as president appears to be one that would be mighty tough to beat.

Gerald P. O'Neill, owner of the Penn-Stroud Hotel, attended the "Welcome Home" dinner for the New York Yankees at the Concourse Plaza Hotel last weekend, and was also in the shivering crowd on opening day at the Stadium, when the A's hung a 5-0 defeat on the defending American League champs. The Concourse Plaza affair annually draws some of the nation's top celebrities as guests.

Bill Shires, hard hitting freshman outfielder for East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, was unable to play in Wednesday's opening game against Panzer, at East Orange, N. J., due to the sudden illness of his wife. This is the same Shires that will hold down an outfield position with Pocono A. C. during the coming Blue Mountain League flag race this Summer. Bill's big bat was missed as the Warriors went down to an 11-8 setback in the initial outing of the 1953 campaign.

Jim Fritz, end and punter on last season's outstanding East Stroudsburg High School football team, is hopeful of entering Penn State in September. Several Stroudsburg owned stock cars are expected to take part in the opening day program at Bone Stadium, Pittston, on Sunday. Several Stroudsburg athletes will be included in the group collecting scrap for the Stroudsburg Hi-Y club on Saturday. Proceeds will be used to purchase a trophy for the outstanding senior boy at Stroudsburg High, with the remainder going toward the YMCA building drive.

Al Pelham, one of the top sports fans in Monroe County, still insists he's not rooting for the Yankees this season. August "Augie" Lockwith, one of the top golfers at Glen Brook, got in some early season shots yesterday, along with the local course's highly regarded new pro, Tony Midiri. Al Gregory, Waymart, will drive his stock car on several area tracks this season.

Horace G. Heller, editor of The Daily Record, caught eight trout while fishing in Tunkhannock Creek yesterday morning. The biggest catch in the limit was a 17-inch brook trout, which according to our informant, weighed one and one-half pounds and was three and one-half inches in width. The landing undoubtedly caused plenty of excitement. The Pocono Bowling League wound up its season on Wednesday, with Patterson-Kelley, first half champion, winning a six-game rolloff from Transue Auto Body, second half title holder.

The Daily Record Most Rabid Fan Contest, currently under way, affords English classes in local high schools a chance to enter the contest as a class project. Major league baseball tickets are the reward to the person writing the winning letter and to the Most Rabid Fan named in the winning letter. The Most Rabid Fan will also be entered in the national contest. The deadline for entry is Friday, April 24, at midnight.

Doby's Big Bat Gives Indians Verdict Over Detroit, 11-8

Detroit, (AP) — Larry Doby knocked in five runs—two of them on a towering 400-foot homer off the rightfield roof—as the Cleveland Indians outslug Detroit to spoil the Tigers' home opener, 11-8, yesterday before 25,253 well-chilled fans at Briggs Stadium.

Doby drilled his homer while the Indians were scoring six times in the third inning. Then, in the sixth, he hammered across the tying and winning runs with a hot single to centerfield that almost decapitated losing pitcher Ray Herbert.

Walt Dropo, the Tigers' big first baseman, tried hard to keep his club in the game, also knocking in five runs with a double and a base-clearing triple.

It was a wild slugfest from start to finish.

Cleveland's Ray Boone hit a headoff homer in the first inning.

Shortstops Having Tough Campaign

New York (AP) — Major league shortstops are having a rough time so far this season.

Seven

With only 11 games having been played up to yesterday, seven of the big league shortstops have made their first errors of the season.

Alvin Dark of the New York Giants already has made two.

French Federation Fines Hayes' Pilot

Paris (AP) — The French Boxing Federation yesterday fined Johnny Buckley, manager of the American middleweight Norman Hayes, of Boston, 100,000 francs ($280) for his conduct Wednesday night when Hayes lost a 10 round decision to Claude Milazzo of France at the Palais des Sports.

Deduction

The federation said the fine would be deducted from Hayes' $5,000 purse.

Cardinals Blank Chicago, 3-0

St. Louis (AP) — Harvey Haddix, 27-year-old lefthander, pitched a four-hit shutout and Captain Enos Slaughter belted a two-run homer last night as the St. Louis Cardinals opened their home season with a 3-0 victory over the Chicago Cubs before 14,526 fans at Busch Stadium.

Stroudsburg Meets Catasauqua At Tannersville

Metzger To Pitch For Mountaineers

Stroudsburg High school will lift the lid on the 1953 Lehigh Valley League baseball season today, with Catasauqua providing the opposition. The contest will be played on the Pocono High field, in Tannersville, with the starting time listed for 4 p. m.

The contest was moved from Gordon Giffels field to Tannersville, when reconditioning work at Giffels field wasn't completed in time to make today's contest possible on the W. Main St. field. Today's tussle is slated for seven innings.

Stroudsburg, plagued by lack of proper practice this spring, will be opening defense of its baseball championship won last spring, in a special playoff with this same Catasauqua club.

Coach Jerry Stulgaitis announced last night that southpaw Bill "Bump" Metzger would open on the hill for the Mountaineers today. In case Metzger should falter along the route, Dick Schuster and Ray Hogrelus, a pair of right-handers, will be ready and waiting to take over the pitching duties for the Stroudsburg club.

Veterans

Stulgaitis will have a veteran array of talent behind Metzger, with the exception of Dick "Pickles" Hintz, making his initial start at third base. The remainder of the inner defense will find Co-Captain Floyd "Willie" Williams at first base; Paul Lim, second base; Karl Weingartner, shortstop, and Co-Captain Layton DeHaven will handle the catching chores.

The veteran outfield will feature Jim Makosky in left field; Al Adelmann, center field, and Benny Miller in right field.

Stroudsburg will enter today's battle with the same team that won the championship last year, with the exception of Jack Newell, third baseman, and Alden "Red" Fetherman, combination outfielder-pitcher.

Catasauqua is expected to feature its usual well-balanced baseball club, one that is listed among the favorites in this season's flag race.

Stroudsburg is scheduled to meet Pen Argyl next Tuesday, at Giffels field, at 4 p. m.

Zaharias Goes Under Knife Today

Beaumont, Tex., (AP) — "Babe" Didrikson Zaharias will be wheeled into an operating room today for surgery on a malignant tumor.

Determine

The operation will determine whether Mrs. Zaharias—probably the greatest woman athlete of the half-century—will play championship golf again.

Cleveland Wins Series

Cleveland (AP) — Scoring on a long bouncing shot by defenseman Bob Chrystal at 6:23 of the first overtime, Cleveland's Barons won the playoff title of the American Hockey League last night by defeating the Pittsburgh Hornets, 1 to 0, in the seventh and deciding game of the final series before 8,688.

Softball Meeting Postponed

Next week's meeting of the Monroe County Softball League will be held on Thursday and not Wednesday as previously announced, it was stated last night by Jack Mullins, president of the circuit.

Reason

The change in dates was made because of the athletic spaghetti supper to be held at the Monroe County YMCA on Wednesday.

Thursday's meeting will also be held at the YMCA, at 7:15 p. m.

Ryan Ties Mark, But Pirates Triumph Over Pirates, 14-12

Pittsburgh, (AP) — Danny O'Connell's three run homer in the fifth inning broke up a slugfest and gave the Pittsburgh Pirates a 14-12 home opening victory yesterday over the Philadelphia Phillies.

O'Connell's blast climaxed a 13-run assault in the fourth and fifth innings to the delight of 16,220 rain-soaked and blanketed Pirates fans who endured 40-degree weather to see Manager Fred Haney's team win its first game of the season.

Connie Ryan, 32-year-old second sacker for the Phillies, collected six straight hits, two of them doubles, to tie a major league record for one game. The record is held by several players.

Explosion

Twenty-four runs crossed the plate in the explosive fourth and fifth innings, the Pirates scoring 13 and the Phillies 11 before the fireworks subsided. The 15-run fifth inning compares with the major league record of 19 runs in one stanza.

Both teams used five pitchers in the three hour and 25 minute contest that saw a total of 32 base knocks. Pete Castiglione also homered for the Pirates and Willie Jones collected a round tripper for the Phillies.

Southpaw Howie Pollet started for the Pirates. He was replaced by Bob Hall after giving up five runs and eight hits. Veteran Murry Dickson, who pitched the opener Tuesday at Brooklyn, finished for the Bucs and got credit for the victory.

Andy Hansen, 27-year-old right-hander and the fourth of five Philly pitchers, was charged with the loss. Karl Drews, knuckleball specialist, limited the Pirates to three hits over the first three frames but was blasted off the mound in the Pirate explosive seven-run fourth.

Metz Paces Virginia Beach Open Field

Virginia Beach, Va., (AP) — Dick Metz, a golf professional for nearly a quarter of a century, established a new competitive course record with an eight-under-par 61 here yesterday to grab the first round lead in the $12,500 Virginia Beach Open Golf Tournament.

The 44-year-old star from Maple City, Kan., was never over par as he moved methodically over the rain-soaked Cavalier Yacht and Country Club layout and its 6,065 yards. He picked up eight birdies along the way, three of them on brilliant putts of 12 feet or more.

Metz's 61 bettered by one stroke the course record set here in 1949 by E. J. "Dutch" Harrison.

Behind Metz with a six-under-par 63 was Doug Ford of Harrison, N.Y. Ford was one of the early finishers, and for a long while, it appeared the 30-year-old ace's 63 was going to be good enough for the quarter-mark lead in this 72-hole medal test that ends Sunday.

Amateur

Amateur R. E. David of Virginia Beach and two Norfolk, Va., professionals—Randolph Miller and Outman—posted 65's. Cards of 66 were turned in by Bo Winger of Oklahoma City, Fenner Satchwell of Norfolk and Billy Capps of New Bern, N.C.

Temperamental Marty Furgol of Lemont, Ill.; Jack Shields of Glen Eagles, Ill.; Bill Morgan of Leesville, N.C., and Dave Douglas of Newark, Del., each fired 67's.

Of the trio of Virginians expected to set the pace as this tournament got underway, only Chandler Harper of Portsmouth could master par. Harper came in with a 68 along with seven others.

Sam Sneed, playing out of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., shot a 76, taking two successive sevens on the par four 15th and 16th holes. Lew Worsham, the other native Virginian, and established as a favorite, had a one-over-par 70.

Glen Brook To Feature Tournament

Glen Brook Country Club will feature a Kiekers Tournament as the feature event on the opening weekend card tomorrow and Sunday, it was announced last night by Tony Midiri, new pro at the local course.

Midiri pointed out yesterday that the tournament will be open to all club members and that they may play either tomorrow or Sunday.

Back Nine

The new pro also stated that tournament play would be held only on the back nine, due to a drainage project now being featured on the front nine.

Drainage of the front nine is expected to make those holes playable in all types of weather.

Montreal Wins Cup

Montreal, (AP) — The Montreal Canadiens won the Stanley Hockey Cup last night when Elmer Lach whipped home a goal in 1:22 of a sudden death overtime period to give his team a 1-0 triumph over the Boston Bruins.

Senators Bow To Yanks Despite Eisenhower's Pitching Help

Washington, (AP) — President Eisenhower got the Griffith Stadium baseball season off in fine style yesterday with a strong, right-handed opening pitch but the Washington Senators missed the cue and dropped a sloppily-played game to the New York Yankees, 6 to 3.

Red Sox Slam A's In Wild Contest, 11-6

Philadelphia (AP) — The Boston Red Sox, after having their American League inaugural delayed twice by snow and wintry weather, made up for lost time yesterday by pounding four Philadelphia Athletics pitchers for 19 hits and an 11 to 6 win at Connie Mack Stadium.

Big Gus Zernial gave the A's what little consolation was available by slamming his first homer of the new season onto the leftfield roof in the fourth inning.

Young Agrees To Bout With Olson

New York (AP) — Paddy Young's manager, Harry Sticker, yesterday closed with President Jim Norris of the International Boxing Club for a 15-round match with Carl "Bobo" Olson of Honolulu for the American middleweight title at Madison Square Garden in late June. Olson has not yet agreed to terms.

No Date
The winner of the Young-Olson match would meet the winner of the Randy Turpin-Charles Humez bout at London, June 9, for the world championship. No date or site has been set for that match.

Chisox Top Browns On One-Hitter, 1-0

Chicago, (AP) — Billy "The Kid" Pierce of the Chicago White Sox pitched a one-hitter, but needed a gift run to beat a two-hitter by 38-year-old Harry Breechen for a thrilling 1-0 home opener victory over the St. Louis Browns yesterday.

The Sox themselves had been victims of Bob Lemon's one-hitter at Cleveland Tuesday.

Lone Run

The only run in the scorching duel between Pierce, now victorious nine straight over the Browns, and Breechen, the Cardinals cast-off making his American League debut, came in the seventh on a walk, sacrifice, error and an out-field fly.

The sole St. Louis hit was a well-spanked double to right center in the seventh inning by second baseman Bob Young, batting eighth in the Brownie lineup. Breechen yielded a pair of singles, one in the first by Vern Stephens and the other in the eighth by Minnie Minoso.
